

The Relative Clause 1 (Nominative)

Worksheet

Latin

Mr Furber

The Relative Clause 1

quod* = because

		English	Masculine	Feminine	Neuter
Sing	Nom	who, which	qui	quae	quod
	Acc		---	---	---
Pl	Nom	who, which	qui	quae	quae
	Acc		---	---	---

Main Task 1

Relative pronoun, relative clause or antecedent?

1. From the summit, which was very high, Aeneas saw a city.
2. Aeneas saw a town, which was Carthage.
3. Aeneas also saw a woman, who was Dido.
4. Dido, who had heard of Aeneas, welcomed the Trojan prince.
5. Dido served a dinner, which was excellent.
6. Dido, who was watching and listening to Aeneas, fell in love with him.

Main Task 2

Translate into English.

1. canis, qui ferox est, dormit.
2. regina, quae cenam vult, est irata.
3. ego puerum, qui currit, conspicio.
4. tu ad tabernam, quae cibum vendit, ambulas.
5. nos templum, quod est in media urbe, videmus.
6. puella, quod canis fugit, desperabat.

Challenge

Translate these especially tricky sentences.

1. quis est vir, qui me servavit?
2. feminae, quae in urbe manebant, erant laetiores quam milites quod non pugnabant.

Review

Only turn to this section once you have completed the main task(s).

Main Task 1: Review

Correct your answers.

1. From the summit, which was very high, Aeneas saw a city. Relative pronoun
2. Aeneas saw a town, which was Carthage. Antecedent
3. Aeneas also saw a woman, who was Dido. Relative clause
4. Dido, who had heard of Aeneas, welcomed the Trojan prince.
Antecedent
5. Dido served a dinner, which was excellent. Relative clause
6. Dido, who was watching and listening to Aeneas, fell in love with him. Relative pronoun

Main Task 2: Review

Correct your answers.

1. canis, qui ferox est, dormit. The dog, who is fierce, sleeps.
2. regina, quae cenam vult, est irata. The queen, who wants dinner, is angry.
3. ego puerum, qui currit, conspicio. I notice the boy, who runs.

Main Task 2: Review

Correct your answers.

4. tu ad tabernam, quae cibum vendit, ambulas. You (s) walk to the shop, which sells food.
5. nos templum, quod est in media urbe, videmus.
We see the temple, which is in the middle of the city.
6. puella, quod canis fugit, desperabat. The girl, because the dog fled, was despairing.

Challenge: Review

Correct your answers.

1. quis est vir, qui me servavit? Who is the man, who saved me?
2. feminae, quae in urbe manebant, erant laetiores quam milites quod non pugnabant. The women, who were staying in the city, were happier than the soldiers because they were not fighting.

