Using subject pronouns: nosotros/as ('we') & ellos/as ('they') & hacer

In Spanish, remember the verb (or its ending) tells us who it refers to.

Here is an example with the verb hacer (to do/make):

Hacemos= we do / make.      Hacen = They do / make.

When comparing different people, Spanish uses a subject pronoun (e.g. I, you, he) before the verb. This makes it clear who the verb refers to.

Nosotros hacemos la comida, mientras que ellos no hacen tareas.

We make the food, whereas they don't do tasks.

So, 'nosotros' means 'we' and 'ellos' means 'they'.

Using subject pronouns: nosotros, nosotras ('we') & ellos, ellas ('they')

To say 'he', use : él. To say 'she', use ella.

To say 'we', use nosotros for an all male / mixed group. 1

Use nosotras for an all female group. 2

To say 'they', use ellos for an all male / mixed group. 3

Use ellas for an all female group. 4

Using 'hacer' to talk about the weather

We use the 3rd person singular of the verb hacer to talk about the weather.

Note that 'hace' is always followed by a noun

Hace sol.

It's sunny.

Hace viento.

It's windy.

Hace calor.

It's hot.

Respuestas

1. We use 'nosotros' for...

a) an all male group    b) an all female group

c) a male and female group

2. To say "they" for an all female group, we use the pronoun ellas.

3. We do = hacemos

4. We use the 3rd person singular of the verb hacer to talk about the weather.

5. 'It's hot' translates as 'hace calor'.
